

HEADLINERS

FORMERLY KNOWN AS CHILDREN'S EXPRESS

2004

HEADLINERS

24 hour cities - Birmingham

One young reporter's views about Birmingham

HEADLINERS

24 hour cities - Brighton

Two young reporters' views on Brighton

HEADLINERS

24 hour cities - Liverpool

Two young reporters' views on Liverpool

HEADLINERS

24 hour cities - London

The Belfast team has produced 10 poems about London.

HEADLINERS

24 hour cities - Newcastle

Two young reporters' views on Newcastle

HEADLINERS

A new weapon for Palestine

Are children and young people the new tools of war in the Middle East?

HEADLINERS

A star who's not for quitting

Former Fame Academy star Sinead Quinn's life today

HEADLINERS

Advertising Great Expectations

Should advertisers be more honest, or be banned from targetting children?

HEADLINERS

Anti-gay prejudice still rife in Derry

Is there a threat to the young gay community in the city?

HEADLINERS

Are you really listening?

Local politics and the rights of children

HEADLINERS

Ashley Cole Scores for Kids

Thousands of young people support Arsenal. A lot of them are boys who look up to the players as role models and dream of being them.

HEADLINERS

Basques Show Way to Forgiveness

Can we learn lessons of peace from history?

HEADLINERS

Being Muslim at Christmas

It seems like everyone in the world celebrates Christmas but what some people forget is that a lot of people recognise different religious festivals.

HEADLINERS

Big Spender

Bringing D-D to life

What relevance does the Second World War hold for young people today?

Children's Express - Children have their say: drugs and alcohol

Drugs and alcohol affect all of us, including young people

City as a playground

The views of Bob Hughes on play education and the development of children

City as a playground

Play is a very important part of a child's development and yet many adults do not know what play education is.

Community Relations

What do young people think about how we, the older generation, choose to address the conflict and divisions in society and the legacy we bequeath to them?

Dating pressure on pre-teens in Derry

How are children as young as 9 or 10 coping with the pressure to begin dating?

Derry's Devine Inspiration

Drugs: Through the eyes of young people

Children and teenagers discuss the government's decision to reclassify cannabis from a class B to a class C drug.

Fears grow as waste mountain gets higher

Belfast has one of the worst recycling rates in Europe but why and what can be done to improve the situation?

Finding your own Image and Identity

Everyone questions their image and identity at some point in their lives, especially teenagers

Fresh ways of assessing river pollution being brought on stream

River pollution is a problem in Northern Ireland, which needs to be addressed before it worsens.

Ghost or hoax?

We ain't afraid of no ghosts. So said our reporters before they took up their latest assignment - to investigate possible paranormal activity in Derry.

Giving young people a voice

Young people's involvement in local politics and decision making

How much are violent lyrics to blame?

Urban music and reggae artists are often blamed in the press for inciting violence but just how seriously do young people take their lyrics?

If I was in charge of... the Internet

If we were in charge of... Britain

The current bus pass system is not to our liking. Young people 11-years and over don't get free bus passes. If we were in charge we would make bus passes free for all young people. It would encourage them to go to school. But that's not all we'd change.

Internet Safety Poll - the results

We wanted to find out how safe young people felt using the Internet? We did some research; and these are the results.

HEADLINERS

Is enough support available for victims of bullying?

It's a sad and terrible fact, but there are 16 to 20 suicides in the UK alone each year due to bullying.

HEADLINERS

Is 'Institutional Racism' Being Tackled in Football?

While football has done great job in combating racism on the terraces, it's time for those in the authorities to lead by example and start fighting the covert racism that lies within.

HEADLINERS

It's no hoax folks

Three Headliners reporters consider the problem of Hoax calls and why young people are often to blame.

HEADLINERS

Japan and the Global Threat of Terrorism

The effects of global threat of terrorism on Japan and the Japanese

HEADLINERS

Junior Jury: highlights 2

Another selection of opinions from the long-running Children's Express opinion column.

HEADLINERS

Just let me shop

Why are young people are encountering prejudice on the high street?

HEADLINERS

Keeping it real

The importance of fashion for teenagers

HEADLINERS

Lignite Mine Controversy Fuels Passion

Plans are underway to start mining for lignite in Northern Ireland, for the generation of electricity but this will have consequences on the environment.

HEADLINERS

Living with HIV

Living with HIV in Northern Ireland and the bigger worldwide picture

HEADLINERS

Loss of habitat affecting bird populations

Many of Northern Ireland's peat bogs, which provide protection for birds, are disappearing at an alarming rate.

HEADLINERS

Meat free thoughts

Animals have feelings too - perhaps that's why the number of vegetarians is growing.

HEADLINERS

My Life...At Easter

Not everyone celebrates Easter, for some it is just another day.

HEADLINERS

My Life...the Stage

For some young people acting on stage in front of an audience can help to boost self esteem.

HEADLINERS

Never too young to die

An investigation into the harsh reality of juvenile execution in the US

HEADLINERS

Perfect Beauty

There is a lot of pressure placed on young women to look a certain way and some will go to great lengths to achieve that look.

HEADLINERS

Playstation on the big screen

Why would young people want to go to the cinema to watch play station games? It might not be everyone's idea of a good day out but that is what happened in Derry only last week.

HEADLINERS

Purple Haze

What are the implications of cannabis' reclassified as a Class C drug?

Role Model or simply celebrity?

In today's society how do young people choose their role models? Do they really look up to people for the good that they are doing or do we all simply have an obsession with celebrity? We set out to look at just who the young people of our city look up to and why?

Shame of Britain's teenagers

Teenagers - lazy and overweight or creative and constructive?

Should professional footballers be role models?

A look at the influence of the behaviour of footballers on children

Speaking out for children

Three members of Islington Children's Parliament explain how they got involved and why they think it is important that young people are listened to.

Standing up for minorities

As the number of people from ethnic minorities living in Northern Ireland increases, so does the urgency to prevent racism and racism related violence.

Teens take on Newcastle's drug and alcohol problems

Listening to young people's views on tackling drug and alcohol misuse

The Human Cost of Road Traffic Accidents

In Northern Ireland twice as many people have died in RTAs than were killed during the Troubles

The more I played the luckier I got

Before Derry City legend Liam Coyle's retirement he shared his reflections and views with members of Children's Express Foyle Bureau.

There's no place like Derry

Wotnxt were in Derry at the weekend where they provided a barnstorming gig to close the Instinct Festival. We caught up with Stevie, Robbie, Jay, Gavin and Paul in the Nerve Centre last Saturday.

What children think of smacking

What do children think of smacking and punishment

What happened to individuality?

Individuality and style is important but how easy is it to achieve?

What's In A Game?

Children look at the effects of violent computer games

Why are young people so badly portrayed by the media?

Why do young people get such a bad press with negative stereotyping?

Why poet Benjamin Zephaniah is a rebel with a cause

Benjamin Zephaniah talks about his early years and his love of poetry

Words Among the Bullets

Thousands of young people all around the world experience war on a daily basis and live to tell their stories. Here is one of them.

Young Muslims feel fall-out from Iraq

How has the war on terror affected race relations in Belfast?

Young People denied Votes at 16

The Electoral Commission has recommended that the voting age should not be lowered to 16 - what do young people think?

Young People Wronged Over Rights

Children and young people do have rights but many are not sure what they are and have never heard of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Youth violence - myth or reality

Violence is claimed to be on the rise in Londonderry but is this really the case and if so, are young people to blame?

Built on OneStopCMS

©2009 Headliners

Registered Charity Number 1043300. Supported by the Department for Children, Schools and Families