

HEADLINERS

2005

African Adventure

Foyle bureau members spend a month in South Africa as part of a radio internship

Aiming higher

How does the new International Baccalaureate diploma measure up against traditional A levels?

Are Children's Rights Being Forgotten

CE investigates whether the proposed bill of rights for Northern Ireland will really make a difference for young people.

CE celebrates 10th birthday

Children's Express celebrates its 10th birthday at the Guardian

Chaos in the classroom?

Children's Express investigate classroom behaviour

Children and Youth Board

A video about the work of the Children and Youth Board.

Children helped appoint their commissioner

Children and young people from all over the UK have been involved in helping to decide who should be the Children's Commissioner in England.

Children's Commissioner: what the kids think

Members of the Children and Youth Board give their views on the appointment of England's first ever Children's Commissioner.

Children's professionals: what I really think of my...

what do you people think about the professionals who are there to help them?

Coming of Age?

Two teenage girls who have been living in London for years now, as they turn 18, face being sent back to a country where they say they could be killed

Commissioner says hoodie ban is crazy

Hoodies are worn both children and adults as demonstrated by the Children's Commissioner

Cults on campus

Children's Express reporters look at why the number of university students joining cults is on the increase

Don't believe the hype

Parents, congratulate your children on their GCSE results and don't believe the headlines, says 18-year-old Annabel McLeod

Don't say yuk say yum

Young people are fed up with greasy, over cooked school dinners and some are taking action to improve the quality of food they are given.

Eastwood drugs cd rom

Children's express reporter Siobahn Slowey reviews an anti-drugs film.

Election 2005

children give their views on the parties' election campaigns and the final result

First Tina Award Winners

The Tina Award is an annual award presented to two young people at CE in recognition of their achievement and contribution to the organisation.

For queen and country

Would you take part in an event that welcomed you to adulthood?

Foyle Photo Gallery

Foyle bureau members take a subjective look at their town

Global eye

Global Eye exhibition in Belfast

Hoodie Hoodlums: Love or Loathed?

Hoodies, how can such a harmless piece of clothing cause such an uproar?

If I were in charge of ...music venues

what would change if you were in charge of music venues?

If I were in charge of ...parliament

what would change if you were in charge of parliament?

If I were in charge of...England

How would things be different if you were in charge of the country?

Life after the London bombings

how have young Londoners reacted to the terrorist attacks?

Low Budget Lance is Suckin' Diesel!

Children's Express reporters talk to filmmaker Lance Daly

Making it in music

CE reporter investigates what it takes to be a music star

Mentor

Mentor is a video made by four young people from Islington about what it means to have a Mentor.

More than just lip service

More needs to be done to make sure that everyone, regardless of age, knows that children have rights just like adults do.

My Life...at the NPG

A summer internship at the National Portrait Gallery changes the life of one young person

My life...coming to London

my life moving from perth, australia to london, england

My Life...in Ghana

A summer trip to Ghana changes the life of one young person

My life...my family

Children cope in different ways when a parent is away

My life...volleyball

A day in the life of a volleyball player

New website for young Londoners

Young Londoners get involved in a new GLA website aimed specifically at them

Review: Harold and Kumar get the Munchies

Review of the film Harold and Kumar get the Munchies

Review: Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire

Children's Express reporters review the new Harry Potter film

Review: Into The Blue

Review: Operation Red Jericho

a review of a children's play - Sink or Swim

Review: Operation Red Jericho

a review of a popular children's book - Operation Red Jericho

Review: The League of Gentlemen's Apocalypse

Review of the film The League of Gentlemen's Apocalypse

Review: Tom's Midnight Garden - The Unicorn

Two Children's Express reporters review the first play at a new theatre built especially for young people.

HEADLINERS

Sex too soon?

young people are discovering sex but when is the right time?

HEADLINERS

HEADLINERS

Sexual health for under 16s

Brook Advisory Centre launch a new public awareness campaign about good sexual health, Children's Express interview young people to find out their views

HEADLINERS

Suffering from depression

A significant number of young people suffer from depression and yet many are still left to deal with the experience alone, in silence and in fear.

HEADLINERS

The Next James Dean?

Children's Express reporters interview new child star John-Joe McNeill

HEADLINERS

Violence in the home must be flushed out

the reasons why violence in the home has to be flushed out

HEADLINERS

What do you think about Live 8

publicity stunt or worthwhile event to raise money and awareness?

HEADLINERS

Who is Colin Murray?

Children's Express reporters meet their Radio One idol, Belfast's own Colin Murray

HEADLINERS

Women in hip hop

Exploring the effects hip hop has had on feminism, sexuality, female body image and gender stereotyping

HEADLINERS

You might want ID but I don't

Government claims that the introduction of ID cards will help fight terrorism and clamp down on illegal workers, but what are the real concerns for the average young person?

HEADLINERS

Young people and the election - what do we think?

What do young Londoners think of the general election

HEADLINERS

Young people in Hackney

young people talk about life in Hackney

HEADLINERS

Young people talk about divorce and separation

If you live with only one parent in the 21st Century, you're probably more normal than not

HEADLINERS

Zero tolerance on drugs in schools

If you are caught supplying drugs at school, you now face being excluded even if it was a first time or one-off offence. Will this new policy just increase the number of school exclusions or decrease the level of drug use in Britain's schools?

---

Built on Cubik

©2012 Headliners

Registered Charity Number 1043300. Supported by the Department for Children, Schools and Families