

HEADLINERS

Reel Prejudice

Headliners members in Belfast produce a series of short films tacking different prejudices.

Reel Prejudice is a 30-second film project by Headliners members in Belfast. The series of short documentaries focuses on several issues including sectarianism and stereotypes.

The young people were encouraged to examine topics that affect them personally and young people in general.

Each participant was given 30 seconds only to get their point across. One film will be released every week over the next month.

To kick off, we begin with Aaron Crossey's film Pride But No Prejudice.

0 comments

- Add a comment to this page

Related Links

More from Headliners

Pride But Not Prejudice Aaron Crossey, 15, finds our society is still being plagued by sectarianism.

Women's Battle For Empowerment Janagha Aboozari, 18 denounces the way women are being treated in Afghanistan where violence takes the place of justice.

One Word Many Prejudices Rachel Magennis, 15, shows how first impressions can be a source of prejudice.

Strong Words Sofly Spoken Ruth Smyth, 19, uses a selection of quotes which deal with several forms of prejudice.

The Big Issue Holly Foskett, 15, observes Big Issue sellers and how they are received.

Built on Cubik

©2012 Headliners

Registered Charity Number 1043300. Supported by the Department for Children, Schools and Families