

If I were in Charge of Consoles

The world would look very different if young people were in charge. Tristan, 10, wishes he were in charge of game consoles.

If I was in charge of a console company I would make a portable console with a built in PS2, a built in X-Box, a built in PSP and a built in computer. I would make it because there are so many cool consoles and I've always wondered what it would be like if they were combined.

But money would be a problem so it would only cost £450 and you would get six free games, which would be; Iron Man, Smash Bunny, Superman, Batman, Fantastic Four and the Incredible Hulk. I would also add virtual reality to it but you would be able to choose if you want virtual reality.

It would come with a mask, a pair of gloves and a few sticky removable wires to attach to your body. The wires would be completely safe. The console would be available in many different colours; red, blue, silver, green, black, pink, purple, transparent and white.
