

Give us a Go! Special Edition

Young reporters from Headliners report on national Playday as part of a magazine commissioned by Play England and talk to young people about the growing trend to stop them from taking risks in play.

A special edition supplement for Play England's Play Today magazine has been produced by Headliners reporters dedicated to this year's Playday on 6 August 2008.

This year's theme Give us a go! explored risk and challenge and encouraged parents and teachers to let children take safe risks in play - like climbing trees. Lots of Playday events certainly indulged in this theme and welcomed the opportunity to test out some risky play including rock climbing.

See the 8-page supplement here.

About this story

This magazine was produced by Chika, 17, Eshe, 17, Kamil, 13, Rhasan, 13 and Tajha, 17.

Contact the London Bureau for more information

0 comments

- Add a comment to this page

Related Links

From the rest of the web

Play England Play England is part of the National Children's Bureau
Playday Playday is the annual celebration of children's right to play.

Built on Cubik

©2012 Headliners

Registered Charity Number 1043300. Supported by the Department for Children, Schools and Families